Course Overview

This advanced-level course by Magna Skills is designed to empower agricultural project managers, agribusiness professionals, government officers, and development workers with the latest project management strategies tailored for the agricultural sector. Drawing from practical African case studies and real-time project data, this course delivers actionable insights into planning, executing, and evaluating agricultural projects for impact and sustainability.

Participants will be guided by industry experts and Magna Skills facilitators through modules that emphasize climate resilience, digital innovation, financial management, and stakeholder collaboration. Whether you’re running donor-funded agricultural programmes or private agri-enterprises, this course provides the tools and strategies to lead with confidence and competence.

Course Outcomes

By the end of this Magna Skills training, participants will be able to:

1. Design and manage agricultural projects using proven project management methodologies contextualized for African rural and semi-urban environments.

Utilize tools to assess risks, develop mitigation strategies, and ensure project sustainability in climate-sensitive agricultural settings.

3. Apply principles of climate-smart agriculture to increase productivity while conserving natural resources.
4. Harness modern digital tools like GIS, mobile-based monitoring systems, and project dashboards for efficient agricultural project tracking.
5. Strengthen community participation and stakeholder engagement to ensure project ownership, transparency, and long-term success.
