Course Overview

Supervising Others is a practical and empowering professional development programme offered by Magna Skills, designed for supervisors, team leaders, emerging managers, project coordinators, and anyone responsible for guiding the work of others. Effective supervision requires more than technical skills—it demands strong communication, emotional intelligence, problem-solving abilities, and the capacity to motivate diverse teams.

Through interactive activities, real workplace scenarios, and proven leadership models, this course equips participants with essential supervisory skills to build productive teams, delegate tasks effectively, manage performance, resolve conflicts, and foster a positive work culture. Magna Skills ensures that participants leave with practical tools they can immediately apply within government, NGOs, private organisations, and donor-funded environments.

Course Outcomes

- Understand the roles, responsibilities, and expectations of an effective supervisor.
- Communicate clearly, motivate teams, and apply leadership styles suitable for different situations.
- Delegate tasks effectively while providing guidance, feedback, and accountability.

Manage performance, handle discipline, and resolve workplace conflicts professionally.

- Build strong relationships, promote teamwork, and create a supportive and productive work environment.
