Course Overview

AI is now a leadership issue, not only a technical issue. Executives must understand how AI affects strategy, risk, competitiveness, governance, people, service delivery and organizational transformation.

This Magna Skills executive course equips senior leaders with the knowledge required to make informed AI decisions, guide digital transformation, manage risks and create AI-ready institutions.

The programme focuses on strategy, governance, leadership and organizational impact. It is designed for decision-makers who need to lead AI adoption without becoming technical specialists.

Course Outcomes
